REFLECTION

Called to Discipleship

What must it have been like for those first four disciples Jesus called? The fact that they were fishing means that they had not been chosen to continue studying the Torah beyond childhood and had not been chosen by a rabbi to be his followers. Even as young men, these four were has-beens and had no hope of a rabbi asking them to be his disciples. Suddenly, Jesus appears and calls them to follow him. A life that had passed them by suddenly opened up before them! Of course they dropped everything and followed.

Discipleship is not something that we take upon ourselves. We are called to it. Some people are very conscious of this call. They are aware of it in their aspirations and dreams; they recognise it in the events of their lives. They hear the call as clearly as Simon, Andrew, James and John heard the voice of Jesus. For others, the call to discipleship is not so clear. They may experience an undefined restlessness, a dis-satisfaction with their lives. People can respond to the call in one of two ways. They can consider the mere suggestion of discipleship an intrusion into their plans, or they can drop what they are doing, leave their former concerns behind and follow Jesus.

There is a misunderstanding about being called and leaving everything behind. Although the gospel says that the four men left their occupation of fishing in order to follow Jesus, this kind of 'leaving behind' was not, and still is not, required of all, for it is in the ordinary events of life that our salvation unfolds. For most people, this is precisely where they are to function as disciples. Still, disciples of Jesus are called to leave behind certain ways of living as they follow him. They are called away from lives of pettiness and division. They are called away from the kind of factionalism that seems to have threatened the unity of the Corinthian community. They are called away from narrow-mindedness and mean-spirited competition. It is much easier to leave nets than to leave the web of one's prejudices.

STAMPS FOR MISSIONS

There is a box on the table in the foyer where you can leave stamps (both used and unused) for the Missions. These stamps will be sent to the MSC Mission Office in Sydney and will be sold. The money raised will be used to help the MSC Missions.

Mass Intentions: Mass requests are often booked out a week in advance. There are times when a request is made to the priest just before the commencement of mass to have that particular mass offered for a specific intention. This can cause a problem because the mass may already be booked. When a mass has been requested for the repose of a soul or for a special intention and a monetary offering has been made, then that mass cannot be offered for a second intention.

Canon Law 948 states:

Separate masses are to be applied for the intentions of those for whom a single offering has been given and accepted.

To avoid any confusion or the possibility of your request being rejected we would please ask that you make your requests for masses through the parish office.

Thank you for your understanding.

11:00AM – 1:00PM

The Heart of Our Parish

The purpose of this assembly is to address two important challenges that face our parish. The first is the amalgamation of parishes in the Belconnen region and what this will mean for our parish. The second is the transitioning from a two priest parish to a one priest parish.

To help us address these challenges the assembly will focus on our Spirituality, Community and Mission.

This assembly will help us to address these important areas as a means of re-energizing our parish life and mission

- MSC Spirituality
- Lay leadership
- A renewed sense of mission

All parishioners are encouraged to attend. Sausage sizzle will follow.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL
DOOR KNOCK - 2017

The annual Doorknock for the Society of St. Vincent De Paul will be held from the 1st February to 28th February 2017.

Members of the Society have already contacted a number of parishioners to seeking their help. If you have not been contacted and would like to help please write your particulars on one of the leaflets you will find on your seats.

We also need volunteers for a SVdP stall in Kippax Fair. A member of the Society will collect your completed leaflet at the door as you leave mass. You will be contacted in due course.

Please help if you can; it is a very effective way of helping those in need within our local community

Fr Paul: This weekend we bless Fr. Paul as we say farewell to him.

May flowers always line your path and sunshine light your day.

May songbirds serenade you every step along the way.

*May a rainbow run beside you in a sky
that's always blue.*

And may happiness fill your heart each day your whole life through. ~Irish Blessing

RESPONSE TO THE PSALM:

The Lord is my light and my salvation.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION:

Alleluia, alleluia!
Jesus preached the Good News of the kingdom, and healed all who were sick.
Alleluia!

GOSPEL IN A NUTSHELL Mt 4:12-23

Having established the credentials of Jesus, the gospel writer then provides a summary of the teaching that will be played out in the gospel, 'Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is close at hand.' Much more than simply being sorry, repent carried with it a sense of turning one's life around; making amends for past failures; and choosing a whole new direction for one's life. Literally, it meant a 'change of mind'. The passage from Isaiah that is quoted in the gospel, speaks of the people who dwell in darkness. The passage is addressed to the Jewish tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali – two of the twelve tribes. These two tribes lived in the northernmost part of Palestine and their lands were surrounded by Gentiles. Any non-Jew was regarded as living in darkness because they did not have the light of 'truth', but these two tribes also dwelt in darkness because they were surrounded by it. Regardless, the passage asserts that all who dwell in darkness (Gentile and Jew alike) will receive a great light.
